DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 101

35 U.S.C. 101 reads as follows:

Whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter, or any new and useful improvement thereof, may obtain a patent therefor, subject to the conditions and requirements of this title.

Claims 63-69 and 71-77 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 because the claimed invention is directed to non-statutory subject matter. Claims 63-69 and 71-77 are directed to apparatus. The examiner asserts that the collection of information does not fall within the statutory classes listed in 35 USC 101. Thus, while the claimed invention may be labeled as an apparatus it is in fact functional descriptive material (i.e. computer program). This is evidenced by page 16 of the specification wherein the applicant discloses that the embodiment is a computer program for use with a computer system, however the modules recited in the claims 63-69 and 71-77 are computer programs. Claims 63-69 and 71-77 are rejected as being directed to a functional descriptive material (i.e., computer program).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claim 70 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claim 70 recites the limitation "the receiver" in line 1. There is insufficient antecedent basis for this limitation in the claim.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 1-62, and 77-92 are allowed.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
